

Meeting friends and family

- You no longer have to stay at home, although government guidelines urge you to stay local and minimise travel.
- Outdoor gatherings of up to six people, or two households, are allowed - including in private gardens.
- You should stay two metres apart from anyone not in your household, or one metre plus with precautions (such as a face covering).
- The police can fine you up to £10,000 for taking part in illegal gatherings.
- THE FOLLOWING RULES WILL APPLY NO EARLIER THAN 17 MAY:
- Most restrictions on meeting other people outdoors will be lifted, but gatherings of more than 30 people outdoors will remain illegal.
- People will be allowed to meet indoors in groups of six, or with one other household.
- Domestic overnight stays allowed with people not in your household or bubble.
- The government says it will review its advice on social distancing at this stage.
- THE FOLLOWING RULES WILL APPLY NO EARLIER THAN 21 JUNE:
- The government hopes to remove all legal limits on social contact.

Going to work

- You should continue working from home if possible.
- If your job involves working in other people's homes - for instance, as a cleaner, a tradesman or a childminder - you can continue to do so.

Schools and nurseries

- Pupils in schools and further education colleges are now returning to face-to-face teaching.
- Wrap-around childcare (including childminders) has restarted.
- Before- and after-school clubs have resumed for some pupils - for instance, vulnerable children, or those whose parents have to work, or have medical needs.
- The government hopes to restore normal provision for all other pupils by the beginning of the summer term.
- Masks are recommended for secondary school students in class, as well as communal areas.
- Students at universities who need to take part in practical activities or access specialist facilities, are returning.

Leisure time

- Outdoor sports facilities such as tennis courts and lidos, are now allowed to open.
- Indoor leisure facilities, including gyms and spas (but not saunas), can open for individual use.
- Organised outdoor sports can resume.
- Pubs, cafes and restaurants can reopen for outdoor services - with no requirement to order a substantial meal with an alcoholic drink. The requirement to order food and drink while seated will remain.

- All indoor entertainment venues including theatres, concert halls, cinemas, museums and galleries, are closed.
- Outdoor playgrounds are open.
- Outdoor attractions, such as zoos, theme parks and drive-in cinemas can reopen.
- Libraries and community centres can reopen.
- Overnight stays away from home are allowed and self-contained accommodation can reopen, but must be used by members of the same household.
